Let the Fairy Games Begin!

On November 19, fairy fans are sure to be on the edge of their seats for the premiere of Pixie Hollow Games (Disney Channel, 7:00 p.m. EST and PST). In this epic sports event, Rosetta's Garden team, joined by newcomer Chloe, take on the champion Storm team — in hopes of ending their long-standing losing streak.

To cheer them on, we're giving away two big prize packs of Disney Fairies merchandise, complete with DVDs, dolls, and more (retail value $265). For a chance to win one, send an e-mail with "Pixie Games" in the subject line, following the instructions below.*

Snacking With the Stars

In the newly released Loukoumi's Celebrity Cookbook, the fifth installment in the children's book series about a lovable lamb, Loukoumi learns from a new pal the importance of never giving up. Interspersed with the tale are family recipes from some 50 celebrities, including such Disney Channel stars as Tiffany Thornton of So Random!

To mark the release, kids ages 4 to 12 can enter Loukoumi's Secret Ingredient Favorite Childhood Recipe Contest. They're invited to submit their recipes, sharing in ten words or less why it's their top pick, for the chance to cook their dish with celebrity chef Cat Cora. For details, go to Loukoumi.com.

Tiffany Thornton's Marshmallow Fruit Salad

In a large bowl, stir together 1 cup sour cream, 1 large can of crushed pineapple (drained), 1 small bag of mini marshmallows, and 1 cup coconut. Add 1 cup chopped pecans, then stir in 1 large can of mandarin oranges (drained). Chill overnight. If you'd like your salad a bit sweeter, add a smidgen of vanilla to the sour cream.
